LEADING DURING CRISIS

Is leading in a crisis different than leading in usual circumstances?

One of the areas that any crisis puts a lot of demand on is Emotional Intelligence.

In a crisis, more than otherwise, leaders are expected to remain calm, listen intently, be decisive, firm and spread positivity. Leaders have to demonstrate more maturity and manage dichotomies most of the time.

InspireOne's "Leading During Crisis" is a 10 - day learning journey to equip your leaders with this critical skill.
